

TWO SISTERS HAVE ECZEMA OF HEAD

Two Illinois Girls Suffer from Scalp Trouble—Another Sister Needs a Tonic—Friend Suggests Cuticura—They Use It and Now Give

MUCH PRAISE TO ALL CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I must give much praise to all the Cuticura Remedies. I used but one of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment, as that was all that was required to cure my disease. I was very much troubled with eczema of the head, and a friend of mine told me to use the Cuticura Remedies, which I did, and am glad to say that they cured my eczema entirely. Since then we have always kept the soap on hand at all times. My sister was also cured of eczema of the head by using the Cuticura Remedies. Another sister has used Cuticura Resolvent and Pills and thinks they are a splendid tonic. I cannot say exactly how long I suffered, but I think about six months. Miss Edith Hammer, R. F. D. No. 6, Morrison, Ill., Oct. 8, 1906."

EVERY CHILD Afflicted with Torturing Disfiguring Hums

Becomes an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering, but because of the disfiguring it is to be lifelong, and mar its future happiness and prosperity. Hence it becomes the duty of mothers of such afflicted children to acquaint themselves with the most effective treatment available, viz: warm baths with Cuticura Soap, and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure. Cures made in infancy and childhood are usually speedy and permanent.

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Hum of Infants, Children, and Adults. Cuticura Soap and Ointment, the great Skin Cure, is the only remedy that cures the hums, and restores the skin to its normal condition. It is the only remedy that cures the hums, and restores the skin to its normal condition. It is the only remedy that cures the hums, and restores the skin to its normal condition.

My Japanese Servant

(Original.) We all liked little Sukey, from the commander (myself) to the lowest ranking officer on board. Sukey's name was Chonosuke Hirano, but we couldn't possibly think of calling him all that, so we reduced the whole to Sukey. Sukey was my body servant and was a native of Japan, five feet one inch in his stockings and quick and wiry as a cat. Talk about servants! I never knew what a servant was till I got Sukey. If I wanted any article at table, before I knew I wanted it Sukey held it right under my nose. If I needed shaving, Sukey knew just the minute my mind was off more important things and would have me lathered and my beard off without leaving a scratch, and all in a jiffy. To have Sukey for a servant was to have another pair of legs, another pair of arms and another brain that cost the master no effort to work.

But nothing is perfect. Sukey had one failing. He was continually borrowing my belongings. Now it was a ink well, now a magnifying glass, anything, everything that he could lay his hands on, and, since he had the freedom of my cabin, he could lay his hands on anything it contained. It seemed to be a mania with Sukey, for he never took anything to keep, and he took lots of things that could not possibly be of any use to the captain's body servant. One evening I missed my chronometer and nautical almanac. I asked Sukey what had become of them, whereupon he went to the little cubby hole where he slept and brought them to me. I questioned him as to the cause of his borrowing my things, and he said he could not help it; he was born so. I put it down to kleptomania; but, as kleptomania usually hides the things they steal, this was not very satisfactory.

One day Sukey went out on the forward deck. The weather was very rough, and a sea came aboard. When it went back into the ocean, it took Sukey with it. I was on the deck at the time and saw Sukey look at me with an appealing glance. I stopped the ship at once, called to a man on the deck below me to throw Sukey a life buoy and had a small boat lowered. It remained out at great risk for half an hour, and when it returned the young ensign commanding it reported that Sukey was not to be found. Sukey, being only a copper colored Japanese, would not usually be considered worth risking other lives for, but he was invaluable as a servant, and I couldn't get over the look he had given me. So I sent the boat back to make another search. This time they remained out an hour, but when they returned Sukey was with them. As the drenched little beggar climbed the ladder and hopped over the gunwale I gave him a dressing on the impropriety of tilting over the forward deck when the ship was taking water, telling him if he ever did it again I would put him in irons. The truth is I was angry with myself as well as with him for risking other good lives—the lives of white men—to save a little five foot Japanese. Sukey knew well enough what I had done for him and from that time forward evinced the greatest affection for me. He even conquered his kleptomania proclivities.

All this happened several years before the Russo-Japanese war came on. Sukey left me not long before that event. During the war I took my ship into port at Nagasaki. An admiral with several ships, all of which formed a part soon afterward of Admiral Togo's fleet at the battle of the sea of Japan, was lying in the harbor. A boat came from the Japanese flagship with an invitation for me to dine with the admiral. I accepted and at 6 in the evening was rowed in my gig to keep the engagement.

What was my surprise to be met on going over the ship's side by little Sukey with a napkin over his arm and a tray on his hand. The captain of the ship was there, too, to receive me. Sukey, whose eyes were glistening with pleasure, told me that the admiral had deputed him to take me to a cabin below to mix me a cocktail. I followed him, and he gave me such a cocktail as I had not tasted since he left me. Leaving me to enjoy it, he went away, and after a while a servant came and informed me that the admiral was waiting for me at dinner. I followed the man, who led me to the admiral's dining cabin. Who should advance to meet me, resplendent in a magnificent uniform, but little Sukey.

"Captain," he said, radiant with smiles, "I am happy to welcome you on my flagship, especially as it gives me an opportunity to thank you for making a special effort to save my life, for I would now be with my ancestors but for you. I must also thank you for bearing with my kleptomania habits, for your things, especially your scientific books and instruments, were of great use to me. But more than all—even my life—I must thank you for the experience gained for my government in noting your methods in managing your ship. We Japanese needed knowledge of naval affairs, for we knew we would soon have to meet the Russian navy."

I stood looking at him in blank astonishment till he had finished, then said: "And I, admiral, have to thank you for most excellent attendance. If you are as good an officer as you were a servant, you will have little trouble with the Russian ships of war."

My astonishment was far greater when in conversation at dinner I found the admiral knew more than I about advanced naval warfare.

WORK THAT TELLS.

Plenty Of It Has Been Done Right Here in Astoria.

Cures that last are cures that tell. To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Astoria. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders, now declare that relief was permanent and the cure perfect. How can any Astoria sufferer longer doubt the evidence?

W. A. McIntosh, of 193 Harrison Ave., Astoria, Ore., says: "For years, off and on, I suffered a good deal from a deranged condition of the kidneys and lameness and aching across the small of my back, which annoyed me very much at my work and made it painful to stoop over or lift anything. I often thought I was troubled with gravel, so painful was the passage of the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice and I produced them at a drug store. They helped me from the first and soon relieved the pain and lameness in my back, corrected and regulated the kidney secretions. The lapse of time since I gave my first statement regarding my satisfactory experience with your remedy, has shown that the benefit derived is still of a lasting nature."

No other remedy on earth is so good for children as Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea, makes them eat, sleep and grow. Bright eyes, rosy cheeks. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets. For sale by Frank Hart.

Mr. E. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of my bed, and when I did I could not stand upright. I took Foley's Kidney Cure. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." Foley's Kidney Cure works wonders where others are total failures. For sale by T. P. Larkin, Drug Store.

A marvelous preparation containing the constituent elements of life. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea cures when all else has failed. 35 cents. Tea or Tablets. For sale by Frank Hart.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

The dose is a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime. These ingredients can be obtained at any good pharmacy, and are mixed by shaking well in a bottle. If not troubled now, save this for future use.

"Pneumonia's Deadly Work

had so seriously affected my right lung," writes Mrs. Fannie Connor, of Rural Route 1, Georgetown, Tenn., "that I coughed continuously night and day and the neighbors' prediction—Consumption seemed inevitable—until my husband brought home a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, which in my case proved to be the only real cough cure and restorer of weak sore lungs." When all other remedies utterly fail, you may still win in the battle against throat and lung troubles with New Discovery, the real cure. Guaranteed by Chas. Rogers, druggist, 50c. and $1.00. Doing Business Again.

"When my friends thought I was about to take leave of this world, on account of indigestion, nervousness and general debility," writes A. A. Chisholm, Treadwell, N. Y., "and when it looked as if there was no hope left, I was persuaded to try Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say that they are curing me. I am now doing business again as of old, and a mistle gaining gany." Best tonic medicine on earth. Guaranteed by Chas. Rogers, Druggist, 50 c.
